a man keenly interested in all wholesome forms of student activity, and for twenty-five years

Professor of Mathematics in Trinity

College, this book is dedicated

Foreword

In the construction of this volume, an earnest effort has been put forth to give a comprehensive survey of the collegiate year 1916-17. No department has been willfully neglected, nor have the editors sought to emphasize any one part to the detriment of another. Fair play has guided the work thruout.

It is our sincere wish that this book may be truly representative of student life and ideals at Trinity, and that, by the perusal of its pages, the student may often be reminded of pleasant days spent on and around the campus.

In Loving Memory

OF

James Haywood Southgate

A LOYAL AND DEVOTED FRIEND TO TRINITY, AND
TO MANY GENERATIONS OF HER SONS

FOR TWENTY YEARS HE WAS OFFICIALLY
CONNECTED WITH THE COLLEGE AS
CHAIRMAN OF OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

JULY 12, 1859

SEPTEMBER 29, 1917

IN MEMORY OF EVERYBODY'S FRIEND

"MARSE JIM"
(JAMES HAYWOOD SOUTHGATE)

BACK to his mother earth who gave,
Hath turned a giant son!
But ere she wrapped him in her grave
She found his task well done.
With towering brow and pond'rous brain
He brought back days of old,
When shepherd hill and starlit plain
Built manhood strong and bold.

Gone from our strength and from our hills
The counsel of a friend,
Who gave us hope and lofty calls
And stood us to the end.
His heart was like the big outdoors,
His eye the glad sunshine;
His voice seemed as the sea that roars
A mystic peace, divine.

He dwelt upon the sunlit hills
Where God's great winds go by;
He loved the rhythm of the rills,
He loved the wondrous sky.
The sweetness of the upturned soil,
The fragrance of the hay,
And rugged, honest sons of toil
Made glad each closing day.

The robin and the redbird found
A haven on his hill;
He watched the field mouse in the ground,
And loved the daffodil.
He loved the clouds that passed along;
The lightning's flash and flight;
He loved the gentle cricket's song
When quiet filled the night.

There was a generous fireside glow
Within his cabin home,
Where young and old might come and go,
Where memory might roam.
None can forget the genial smile,
The bounding, inward joy
He gave in that old-fashioned style,
"How goes the world, Old Boy?"

He seemed a part of all we owned—
The home, the church, the school;
Sweet charity his life enthroned,
He lived the golden rule.
On rostrum or at banquet mirth,
At desk or 'mid the crowds,
He lived with feet upon the earth
And head above the clouds.

Where'er he touched his mother earth,
She gleamed with beauty rare;
He gave a rich and hallowed worth
To land and sea and air.
His was the universal life
That knows nor time nor place,
That struggles with a kindly strife
To leave a manlier race.

"BARNEY" rolls beans at the hash shop; yet he has the good will of the campus. Will miracles never cease, Llewellyn?

RICHARD H. BENNETT, JR., Σ X, Σ Y Atlanta, Ga.

Lynchburg High School; Freshman, Sophomore Honors; Class Basket-Ball (3, 4); Assistant Manager Baseball (2); Assistant Manager "Chanticleer" (2, 3), Manager (4); "Chanticleer" Board (4); Assistant Secretary Greater Trinity Club (3); Historical Society; Y. M. C. A., Cabinet (4); Hesperian Literary Society; "9019"; Tombs.

On our left, ladies and gentlemen, the greatest financier on the park—one "Dick" who has supreme control of the shekels for the "Chanticleer."

JOHN CAMPBELL BOGGS, Σ X.....Richmond, Va.

Urbana High School; Freshman Honors; Commencement Marshal (1); Sophomore Debate; Assistant Secretary Greater Trinity Club (3, 4); Assistant Manager "Archive" (3); "Chanticleer" Staff (3); Manager "Chronicle" (3, 4); Virginia Club, President (4); Y. M. C. A., Cabinet (4); Science Club; Botanical Club; Hesperian Literary Society; Pi Mu Kappa; "9019"; Tombs.

The purse strings of the "Chronicle" are safe as a National Bank; "JOHNNY" pulls 'em.

WILLIAM B. BOLICH, K A. Winston-Salem, N. C.

Wofford College (1, 2); Class Baseball (3); Chemistry Club; Mountain Boomers' Club; Y. M. C. A., "9019."

"BRYAN'S" head has more than a mere esthetic value—he shines on English IV like a good deed in a naughty world.

JAMES SIDNEY BRADSHER.....Oxford, N. C.

Roxboro High School; Class Track (1, 2, 3); Varsity Track (2); Class Relay (2, 3); Class Basket-Ball (3); Science Club; Chemistry Club; Physics Club; Y. M. C. A.; Hesperian Literary Society; Pi Mu Kappa.

After a year of phenomenal track work with the Trinity squad, "SLIM" broke into faster company among "the female of the species."

DAVID BRADY, T K A.....Durham, N. C.

University of North Carolina (1); Hesperian Literary Society, Executive Committee (2), Chairman (3), Chairman Business Committee (3), President (4), Critic (4); General Debaters' Medal (2); Inter-Society Debate (2), Intercollegiate (2, 3, 4); Junior Oratorical Contest; Debate Council (3, 4); "Chanticleer" Board (3); "Archive" Staff (4); Class Baseball (3); Durham High School Club, Secretary-Treasurer (4); Historical Society; Quill Club; International Polity Club.

Men, draw in closer; little boys, run away—we have here "DAVE," Hesperia's sole claim for the right to exist.

JOHN ARTHUR BRAME.....Macon, N. C.

Macon High School; Y. M. C. A., Chairman Music Committee (4); Hesperian Literary Society.

Woodrow was never more at home in the White House than "JOHN" is on the Baby Grand.

JOSEPH HENRY BRITT.....Cary, N. C.

Trinity Park School; Trinity Park School Club; Wake County Club; Historical Society; Y. M. C. A.

This "JOE" boy has the ability to collect a pressing bill, and keep the good will of his victims. For his rating, see page 1046 of Bradstreet's Review.

ERNEST HARRY BROOME.....Monroe, N. C.

Wesley Chapel High School; Union County Club; Y. M. C. A.; Columbian Literary Society.

Give "ERNEST" the proper encouragement, and he'll talk like a house afire; otherwise, he is the counterpart of the proverbial oyster.

CHARLES SETTLE BUNN.....Bailey, N. C.

Trinity Park School; Class Relay (1, 3, 4); Captain Class Track (1); Class Basket-Ball (3, 4); Sophomore Debate; Assistant Manager "Archive" (3), Manager (4); Trinity Park School Club; Classical Club; Hesperian Literary Society, Vice-President (4); Y. M. C. A., Chairman Membership Committee (3), President (4).

Here we have living proof of the fact that a Y. M. C. A. president isn't necessarily a weeping willow.

EDWIN BURGE.....Hendersonville, N. C.

Weaver College (1, 2); Historical Society; Mountain Boomers' Club; Weaver College Club; Columbian Literary Society, Executive Committee (3), Business Committee (4), Chief Tribune (4); Class Relay (4); "9019."

For information in reference to Crystal Beach, Canada, and Converse, "ED" is better than a travelers' guide. He is tired of Hendersonville.

JAMES HOYLE BURRUS, S. T.....Shelby, N. C.

Reidsville Seminary; "Chronicle" Staff (1, 2, 3, 4); "Chronicle" Board (3, 4); "Chanticleer" Staff (1, 2, 3), Editor (4); Chairman "Chanticleer" Board (4); Class Vice-President (3, 4); Vice-President Greater Trinity Club (4); Columbian Literary Society, Clerk of Tribune (1), Chief Tribune (2), Treasurer (3), Business Committee (4); Union County Club (1, 2, 3), Secretary (2, 3); Vice-President, Cleveland County Club (4); Red Friars; Tombs.

"SLIM" without a doubt, but stout enough to carry the 1917 "Chanticleer" on his shoulders.

RUPERT NEWBY CAVENESS.....Morehead City, N. C.

Warrenton High School; Class Baseball (2); Class Track (3); Class Basket-Ball (3, 4); Sandfiddlers' Club; Warrenton High School Club; Hesperian Literary Society; Y. M. C. A.

This is a portrait of Beau Brummel "incog." "I dearly love Sabbath afternoons; it is such a real diversion to be among the girls."

WILLIAM W. CLEMENTS, A Z Φ....Durham, N. C.

Durham High School; Historical Society; Science Club; Durham High School Club; Hesperian Literary Society; Y. M. C. A.

"CLEM" holds high court with the disciples of Omar, when the grapes hang high.

JOHN CLINE.....Lincolnton, N. C.

Rutherford College (1); Sophomore Honors; Sophomore Debate; Junior Scholarship; Physics Club; Rutherford College Club, Vice-President (4); Ministerial Band, Vice-President (4); Historical Society, Vice-President (4); Columbian Literary Society, Chaplain (1), Chairman Executive Committee (4), President (4); Inter-Society Debate (4); Y. M. C. A.; "9019."

This is the boy that bids fair to put the dunce cap on Minerva herself.

GOLDIE VENICE COPLEY.....Durham, N. C.

East Durham High School; Athena Literary Society.

Behold the shrine at which the Park School worships.

WILLIAM BRYAN COX, II K Φ....Richlands, N. C.

Richlands High School; Sandfiddlers' Club; Y. M. C. A.

He burneth the midnight oil. Student? Not hardly—a "rook" enthusiast.

FREDERICK W. CUNNINGHAM.....Sanford, N. C.

Sanford High School; Class Relay (1, 2, 3); Captain Class Relay Team (4); Class Tennis (4); Alternate Varsity Tennis (4); Freshman and Sophomore Honors; Sophomore Debate; Glee Club (4); Classical Club; Columbian Literary Society; "9019"; Tombs.

"Sic semper" with all musicians—he harasseth the mandolin after "lights."

HENRY CLETIS DEAL.....Monroe, N. C.

Weddington Academy; Union County Club; Columbian Literary Society, Chief Tribune (4); Y. M. C. A.

"CLETUS" hails from Union County, and is proud of his native heath. He is a strong argument for the "early-to-bed" theory.

MARGARET DURHAM, K Δ.....Abingdon, Va.

Martha Washington College (1, 2, 3); Virginia Club, Secretary (4); Delta Phi Rho Alpha.

She came—in her Senior year—a string of nineties, and a string of scalps.

MILLARD GLENN EATMAN.....Cary, N. C.

Cary High School; Columbian Literary Society; Executive Committee (1, 2), Chairman (2), Treasurer (3, 4), President (4); Y. M. C. A.

This young man belongs to "Breedlove's gang" of sleuths. Ask "M. G."—he knows.

ALLISON B. FARMER, A Z Φ; T K A., Bailey, N. C.

Trinity Park School; Class Relay (1); Assistant Manager "Chronicle" (2, 3); "Chanticleer" Board (4); Classical Club; Trinity Park School Club; Nash County Club, Secretary (2), Vice-President (3); Historical Society; Columbian Literary Society, Executive Committee (1), Freshman Debaters' Medal, Alternate Inter-Society Debate (2), Secretary (3), Vice-President (4), Intercollegiate Debate (2), Alternate Intercollegiate Debate (3, 4), Secretary Debate Council (3); Y. M. C. A.

If silence is really golden, "A. B." will end in the poorhouse. Once offered himself as a living sacrifice on the altar of the Southern Conservatory.

EUGENE CANNON FEW, K A., Greer, S. C.

Greer High School; Class Baseball (1, 2, 3, 4); Class Relay (1); Varsity Track (3), Manager (4); Sophomore Debate; Chief Commencement Marshal (3); "Archive" Staff (4); Debate Council (4); "T" Club; Ministerial Band, President (4); Columbian Literary Society, Secretary (3), President (4), Business Committee (4), Inter-Society Debate (3), Alternate Inter-Society Debate (4); Classical Club, Secretary (4); South Carolina Club, Vice-President (3); Y. M. C. A., Chairman Bible Study Committee (4); "9019"; Tombs.

Here's "GENE," the Grand Mogul of that Columbian Society.

NANNIE KATIE GILL, Bloxom, Va.

Randolph-Macon Woman's College (1, 2, 3); Athena Literary Society.

And when she got thru consuming curriculum, behold there was not a morsel remaining.

HENRY CLAY GREENBERG, T K A., Durham, N. C.

Durham High School; Sophomore Debate; Commencement Marshal (2); Durham High School Club; Hesperian Literary Society, Business Committee (1, 2), Executive Committee (1, 2), Chairman (3), Secretary (3), Inter-Society Debate (3), General Debaters' Medal (3), Intercollegiate Debate (3, 4); Historical Society.

Ever since his debut on the park, "HENRY" has kept a thumb in the political pie; above, see his sugar plums.

PERCY LEE GROOME.....Greensboro, N. C.

Jamestown High School; Guilford County Club; Assistant to Librarian (4); Columbian Literary Society, Associate Tribune (3, 4), Censor (3); Y. M. C. A.

"PERCY" moves in the labyrinth of the library stack room like a "kilty" among the Scottish heather—can't lose him.

JASPER MORRIS GROVES.....Gilkey, N. C.

Weaver College (1, 2); Weaver College Club; Rutherford College Club; Chemistry Club; Science Club; Columbian Literary Society; Y. M. C. A.

"HUNGRY"—whoever named him, named him well—his favorite dish is the "old weed."

LEON MCGOWAN HALL.....Union, S. C.

Trinity Park School; South Carolina Club; Trinity Park School Club; Y. M. C. A., Cabinet (3, 4); Hesperian Literary Society.

"REVEREND" has that "meet-me-later look"; but eh, he knows the Book.

VIRGINIUS C. HALL, K Σ; Σ Y..Wilmington, N. C.

Davidson College (1); Glee Club (2, 3, 4); "Chanticleer" Staff (3, 4); "Chanticleer" Board (4); "Archive" Staff (4); Assistant in English (4); Wilmington Club, President (4); Tombs.

"DITTY'S" moments of literary brilliancy are intermittent; but, like the proverbial brook, his guitar goes on forever.

WILLIAM PRESTON HARPER.....LaGrange, N. C.

LaGrange High School; Class Baseball (3, 4); Historical Society; Y. M. C. A.; "9919."

"RED" wasteth his substance on "Greek Lit." Education, and the like. Hid his light under a bushel of Senior "crips."

EDWARD C. HARRIS, A Z Φ.....Wendell, N. C.

Trinity Park School; Class Track (1); Class Baseball (1, 2, 3, 4); Varsity Squad (1, 2, 3); Trinity Park School Club; Secretary (3); President (4); Physics Club; Science Club; Chemistry Club; Columbian Literary Society; Executive Committee (1, 2, 3); Chairman (2, 3); Associate Tribune (3); Marshal (4); Wake County Club; President (4); Y. M. C. A.; Membership Committee (3); Assistant to Librarian (3, 4); Pi Mu Kappa.

"ROMAN" is offering a silver loving cup for the genius who submits to him the best method of "smashing the weed" without danger of detection.

EVERETT GRANT HARRIS.....Festus, Mo.

Festus High School; Class Track (1, 2); Class Relay (2, 4); Class Basket-Ball (4); Glee Club (2); Assistant in Biology (4); Science Club; Physics Club; Botanical Club; Classical Club; Y. M. C. A.; "9919."

"MISSOURI"—Have a heart! here comes another one of them sub-scrub faculty boys. "MISSOURI" is cock of the walk in the "Bug Lab."

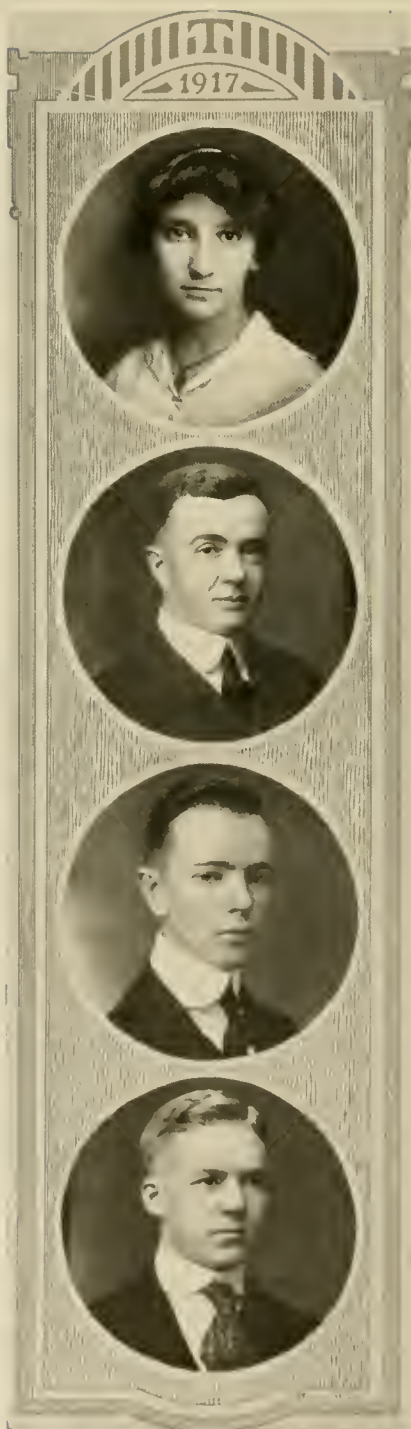

ROBERT LEE HAYES, K Σ.....Raleigh, N. C.

Trinity Park School; Assistant Manager Athletics (1); Trinity Park School Club; Glee Club (4); Y. M. C. A.

If you don't believe that "FOUR HUNDRED ROBIN" is a hand with the ladies, ask him. He also sings like—but that's another story.

GRACE HOLTON.....Durham, N. C.

Durham High School; Durham High School Club; Sophomore Honors; Parthenon Club; Athena Literary Society, Treasurer (4); Eko-L.

"GRACE" further proves that no Holton was ever without honors at Trinity.

RENN G. HONEYCUTT.....Granite Falls, N. C.

Rutherford College; Commencement Marshal (1); Rutherford College Club; Cleveland County Club; Columbian Literary Society; Y. M. C. A.

For "one hundred proof" humor, "HONEY" has Life stood a city block.

SAMUEL JEFFRIES.....Gaffney, S. C.

Gaffney High School; South Carolina Club; Columbian Literary Society; Y. M. C. A.

"JEFF."

"And lately thru a Jarvis door agape,
Came mincing o'er the park an angel shape."

GERALD RAY JORDAN, K. A.....Kinston, N. C.

Kinston High School; Freshman, Sophomore Honors; Sophomore, Junior Scholarships; Commencement Marshal (2); College Marshal (2); Assistant Manager "Chronicle" (3); Class Basket-Ball (3); Class Baseball (4); "Chanticleer" Board (4); Pan-Hellenic Council (4); Sandfiddlers' Club; Classical Club; Ministerial Band, Secretary and Treasurer (4); Historical Society; Columbian Literary Society, Executive Committee (2), Associate Tribune (3), Business Committee (4), Censor (4), Vice-President (4), Inter-Society Debate (4), Alternate Intercollegiate Debate (4); "9019"; Tombs.

Sweet heavens, Edith; who is the small tow-headed boy with the protruding chest? You poor, poor dear, 'tis "PREACHER," the Frau Shack idol.

MARY LATHAM KNIGHTDurham, N. C.

Durham High School; Durham High School Club; Parthenon Club, Vice-President (1), Secretary (4); Athena Literary Society, Treasurer (3), Secretary (3), Critic (4).

Our feminine Falstaff, minus the faults.

LEON CRAWFORD LARKIN.....Carthage, N. C.

Carthage High School; Class Tennis (1, 2, 3), Varsity (4); College Band (1, 2, 3, 4), Manager (1); Glee Club (1, 2, 3, 4), Manager (4); Commencement Marshal (1); Class Baseball (3); "Chronicle" Board (3); Sophomore Debate; Hesperian Literary Society, Chaplain (3); Ministerial Band; "T" Club; Y. M. C. A., Vice-President (1); Tombs.

"LARK" is indeed a bird on the tennis court.

ALEXANDER BRUCE LATTADurham, N. C.

Durham High School; Durham High School Club.

"A. B." You have heard the time-frazzled maxim, "Still water runs deep."

HOMER NESTOR LEGRAND, K. A.....Hamlet, N. C.

Webb School; Class Basket-Ball (1, 2, 3, 4), Captain (1, 3); Varsity Basket-Ball (4); Class Baseball (1, 2, 3, 4), Captain (3), Varsity Squad (1, 2); Vice-President Class (1); Secretary Class (3); Class Relay (2); "Chanticleer" Board (4); Athletic Council (1), Secretary (4); Assistant in Latin (1); Webb School Club; Classical Club; "T" Club; Y. M. C. A.; Tombs.

On the basket-ball floor, "MONK" is open to all comers. He also features on the sub-scrub faculty. But why rake that up? This is a friendly game.

ADELAIDE AVERY LYONS.....Glade Spring, Va.

Centenary College (1, 2); Sophomore Debate; "Archive" Staff (4); "Chanticleer" Staff (4); Virginia Club; Athena Literary Society, Censor (4); Eko-L; Delta Phi Rho Alpha.

Here is the muse whom the "Archive" editor continually invokes. Literature is "ADELAIDE'S" middle name.

EMMA BLANCHE MANN, Z T A..Charlotte, N. C.

Davenport College (1, 2); Sophomore Debate; "Chanticleer" Board (4); Sorority Pan-Hellenic Council (4); Athena Literary Society; Eko-L.

Having imbibed English XI, yon Cassius naturally hath a lean and hungry look.

MARGARETTE MARTIN.....Durham, N. C.

East Durham High School; Athena Literary Society.

A book of science underneath the bough; a drawing pad, and "MARGARETTE" is too busy and happy to even wish a "thou" in her Paradise.

W. W. MATHEWS, K A; T K A.....Vidalia, Ga.

Emory College (1, 2); Glee Club (3, 4); Chief Rooter (4); Debate Council (4); "Archive" Staff (4); "Chanticleer" Staff (4); Hesperian Literary Society, Critic (4), Intercollegiate Debate (3, 4); Assistant Secretary Greater Trinity Club (3, 4); Tombs.

"FAT" leads the Trinity reotery. When this toy is going good, he can make a leather-lunged cow-puncher sound like a tree frog with tonsillitis.

GARLAND FRANKLIN MAYES, Σ X. Stem, N. C.

Stem High School; Class Baseball (1, 2, 3, 4); Class Basket-Ball (1, 2, 3, 4), Captain (4); Varsity Basket-Ball (3, 4); Class Relay (3, 4); Assistant Baseball Manager (3), Manager (4); "Chanticleer" Board (3, 4); "T" Club; Y. M. C. A.; Hesperian Literary Society; Tombs.

Campus gossip has it that "DYNAMITE" was used in excavating this boy's cupola; hence the nickname. Nevertheless, he manages the baseball team like a general.

THE BASEBALL SEASON

ITH Coach "Crip" West's call, on February 8, for baseball candidates, a squad of fifty reported on the Old Hanes Athletic Field, the new field being in such condition that it could not be played upon. Of this large squad there were seven letter men—Captain Durham, Earnhardt, Few, Flythe, Love, Rone, and Powell. After several weeks of hard, steady practice, Coach West, from the wealth of new material, chose "Dago" Lefler for the backstop position, "Bony" Beal to look after the initial sack, "Goat" Falls to guard the keystone bag, placed "Bill" Langley in center field, and shifted "Yannigan" Rone to an outfield position. Earnhardt, Powell, Mason, and Lambe composed the Varsity pitching staff.

In pre-season practice, this team showed up unusually well. Every man hit the ball, fielded his position in fine fashion, and appeared to have plenty of the old "fight" and "pep." Taken all in all, the team appeared to be the best that had represented Trinity since the days of "Bob" Gantt. Coach West and the student-body expected great things of the team. They were confident that Trinity would win a great majority of the games included in the unusually hard Nineteen-Sixteen schedule, which provided for seven games with Georgia and South Carolina colleges instead of the usual Virginia trip. Hope that Trinity might even win the South Atlantic championship prevailed on the campus.

The pre-season games with the Durham Bulls and the Baltimore Orioles only strengthened this spirit of confidence in the ability of the team. On March 30 came the first regular game of the season, with the old rival, Wake Forest. Timely hitting by Beal and Love enabled the Methodists to nose out a 4-3 victory. Lefler, besides scoring two of Trinity's four runs, caught a beautiful game. Captain Durham played a spectacular game at third base. William and Mary was the next victim to fall before the Trinity nine, the Virginians being overwhelmed on April 4, 10 to 2. Lefler, Beal, Love, Flythe, Langley, Rone, and Powell showed up unusually well for the locals. Then, on April 8, came the first jolt of the season. A return game with Wake Forest on their own territory resulted in a 9-0 tie. George Earnhardt held the Baptists at his mercy for seven innings—but one man reached first, eleven were struck out, and the whole Trinity team played errorless ball. In the meantime, the offense managed to pile up nine runs, and had apparently sewed up the game. But the break came in the eighth inning. Whether it was due to a reaction of the weird one-sidedness of the game, to the strain upon the nerves of the players as a result of the harrowing treatment accorded them by the local rooters, or to a really tremendous rally by the Baptists, can not be said; it was probably due to all three circumstances. In any event, the Trinity pitchers became as powerless to stem the tide as had been the opposing players previously. Earnhardt, Mason, and Lambe all had to be withdrawn. Powell finally stopped the scoring, but the work had been done, the score was tied, and remained that way until darkness forced a halt in play at the end of the twelfth inning. In this game Langley and Lefler continued their phenomenal playing at center and behind the bat; and Langley, Love, Flythe, and Beal proved formidable wielders of the stick. The defeat of the strong Virginia Polytechnic Institute team, South Atlantic champions of the previous year, by the score of 7 to 5, two days later, on the home grounds, gave Trinity hopes a mighty shove upward. The excellent twirling of Earnhardt, a running catch by Rone in the third inning, and a shoestring stab by Langley in the eighth frame, were the features of the game. The heavy and timely hitting of Beal and Love contributed much to Trinity's victory.

The team then left on a three days' western trip, which called for two games with Davidson and one with Guilford. In the first Davidson game, played at Hickory, April 13, Trinity came out at the big end, with a 4 to 2 score. The game took the form of a pitchers' battle between Earnhardt and Lawson. The local twirler, with only three hits chalked up against him, got decidedly the better of the argument. Flythe's sensational one-handed catch of a long fly in the ninth was the outstanding play of the game. The Presbyterians reaped revenge the following day, in a farcical, uninteresting game, played on their grounds, where they defeated the Methodists 18 to 10. Twenty-eight runs, twenty-four hits, and eleven errors in eight and one-half innings, lasting two hours and twenty minutes, best describes the game. Too much Zachary spelled a 2 to 1 defeat for the locals at the hands of Guilford, the game being played at Spencer. Flythe and Captain Durham played excellent ball for the locals. The next game of the season was played April 17, with the strong A. and M. team, in Raleigh. Weathers' excellent pitching, and timely hitting by the Aggies, caused Trinity to go down in defeat to the tune of 4 to 0. The mound-work of Bennett, and the fielding of Langley, were the features of the game for the Methodists. Love and Earnhardt were the only Trinity batters who were able to garner safe hits off the big Tech. southpaw.

Then the hoodoo came into our midst. The team lost its pep and fight, everything went wrong, and luck never broke in the right direction. With all the ginger taken out of the team, things went from bad to worse. On April 20, Guilford, with Zachary again in the box, triumphed over Trinity on New Hanes Field, 9 to 4. Two days later, A. and M. gained a 5 to 1 victory on the home grounds, Weathers again proving too much for the locals. The University of Georgia next came to Durham for two games,

April 24 and 25. In the first game, played at the League Park, Easter Monday, the Crackers secured a 5 to 1 victory. Earnhardt and Lefler featured for Trinity. The second game, played on the New Hanes Field, resulted in a 6-6 tie. Trinity, altho at times showing a flash of the old pep and fight that encouraged loyal supporters, was never able to produce the sole tally which meant victory. The feature of the game was the pitching of Earnhardt who, altho he had worked the preceding day, went in as a relief pitcher at the end of the seventh. He pitched the remainder of the thirteen-inning game, allowing but one single, and striking out six men. Whatever hopes Trinity supporters had for a comeback were blasted the very next day, when Davidson shut out the locals 7 to 0. "P." Mason pitched excellent ball, but six costly errors by his team-mates sealed his doom, and caused the loss of the game. Clemson College was the next conqueror before whom Trinity fell, the South Carolina Aggies defeating the locals 16 to 6. On the next day, however, the Trinity team staged a real comeback. On the night before, the student-body held an enthusiastic mass meeting around the flagpole, demanded speeches from Coach West and various members of the team, gave numerous yells and cheers, and finally burned the jinx in a huge bonfire. The result was that our players went into the game Friday with the determination to win; and win they did, 5 to 4. Langley and Love with their stickwork, and Flythe with his sensational fielding, figured prominently in the victory. Once again the hopes of Trinity supporters revived; they renewed their confidence in the team, and looked forward to several victories on the approaching Southern trip. Then the worst luck of all happened. "Dago" Lefler, the mainstay behind the bat, and whose stellar work had figured in practically every Trinity victory, split two fingers in a practice game with the Durham Bulls, and was forced to keep out of the game for the rest of the season.

It was, therefore, with a crippled team and shifted line-up that Coach West and Manager Ferrell led the team into Georgia. The trip was one great disaster for Trinity. Piling up numerous errors in every game, displaying no teamwork, with all their fighting spirit gone, and with a changed line-up every day, they lost seven straight games. On May 3 and 4, two games went to the University of Georgia, by scores of 10 to 1 and 7 to 1. Georgia Tech, at Atlanta, claimed the next two victories—14 to 3 and 5 to 0. Clemson mopped up in two games—3 to 0 and 13 to 3. The last game of the trip was played with Furman, at Greenville, S. C., and resulted in a 7 to 0 defeat for Trinity. The Trinity team played the best game here of the entire Southern trip, and really deserved to win. They maintained a three-run lead until the eighth inning, when five hits gave Furman the four runs needed to win the game. Rone caught an unusually good game, and Beal, Few, Flythe, Earnhardt, and Langley, with their heavy stickwork, were largely responsible for Trinity's six tallies.

After returning from the Southern trip, the season was concluded with two games, May 12 and 13, with Washington and Lee, on the home grounds. The superb mound work of George Earnhardt enabled Trinity to come out victorious, 6 to 2, in the first game. The whole Trinity team played errorless ball. Edens, at first base, and Carver, in right field, appeared in the Trinity line-up for the first time. The former got a single, and the latter a double, and both showed up well in the field. Rone and Love also played a good game for Trinity. Washington and Lee secured revenge in the second game, by annexing an 8 to 1 victory. Besides twirling a masterful game for the visitors, Pierotti knocked the ball over the right field wall of the New Hanes Field, a feat never before accomplished by a college player.

This game concluded the season—the most disastrous season that Trinity had seen for many years. Six victories, two ties, and sixteen defeats tell the tale. With abundance of excellent material on hand, and brilliant chances for a more successful season, everything went wrong. Luck always broke in the wrong direction. The team became discouraged, slumped in their batting, and grew listless in their fielding. Then a bungled hand put Lefler out of the game, and thus necessitated continuous shifting of the line-up; all these things contributed to the unbroken string of defeats. Trinity supporters can only hope for sweet revenge in the Nineteen-Seventeen season. With seven letter men, and some excellent new material on hand this year, it seems probable that these hopes will be fulfilled.

MANAGER SMITH

To MANAGER "JIM" SMITH must go much of the credit for the successful nineteen-seventeen season. He it was who bore the brunt of the financial trouble and mental worry for the team. The wonderful financial success, and the numerous victories, testify to thoro, ceaseless work and a carefully arranged schedule. A successful and efficient manager is the stamp of approval placed by the whole season upon "JIM."

CAPTAIN MARTIN

To be captain of a college team two consecutive years, and at the same time to be pilot of the All-State team is an honor that falls to very few men. Just this honor has fallen to CAPT. "HIP" MARTIN, of the Nineteen-Seventeen State Championship Quintet. As Captain and Guard, "HIP" was largely responsible for the success of this year's five. His fast consistent playing produced many goals for the Methodists, and made him the terror of every Forward in these parts.

COACH DOAK

A State Championship team the very first year he had charge of the squad was what COACH "CHICK" DOAK turned out this year. Probably to him more than to any other one man is the credit for the highly successful nineteen-seventeen season due. Coming to Trinity from Carolina in the early fall, he at once made himself exceedingly popular on the campus, and by his practical and efficient coaching turned out the most formidable quint that has ever represented this institution.

THE 1917 SEASON

UNDISPUTED State Champions, with the laudable record of twenty victories out of twenty-four games, briefly sums up the outcome of the nineteen-seventeen Basket-Ball season—the most remarkably successful that a Trinity quint has ever had. For the first time in the history of the institution, the Methodist five, under the pilotage of Coach "Chick" Doak, Capt. "Hip" Martin, and Manager "Jim" Smith, returned from the Virginia trip with a string of victories to its credit. Virginia Military Institute, Staunton Military Academy, Virginia, and Georgetown bowed before the irresistible onslaught of the Trinitians. Washington and Lee and Catholic managed to squeeze two-point triumphs out of their frays with the local team. To the State teams, Trinity lost but one game during the entire season—a hard-fought 16-14 game to A. and M., on the Techs' own floor. Such a wonderful record surprised even the Methodists' most ardent supporters, and gave to the local five an undisputed title to State Championship honors.

To say to whom belongs the most credit for this successful season is an impossible undertaking. Every man on the squad played steady and even brilliant basket-ball; and to the team as a whole must go all the praise. Captain Martin, with 266 points to his credit, was the leading scorer for the quint. Groome, at Center, and Ferrell, at Forward, with 234 and 181 respectively, stood second and third in the number of points scored. The number of points scored, however, is by no means to be used as a standard of judgment; guarding, passing, and floorwork must all be taken into consideration. When one considers all these things, the work of every man stands out prominently. To no one player can the credit for the numerous wins go, but to the whole Varsity team—Captain "Hip" Martin, "Gladly" Groome, "Skin" Ferrell, "Dynamite" Mayes, "Duck" Swan, "Panic" Patton, "Monk" LeGrand, and "Johnny" Brushingham—as well as every man on the scrubs, must the real credit for the twenty victories and the State Championship honors be given.

As is the usual run of things at the beginning of a varsity basket-ball season, our team opened its year by encountering the Furham Y. M. C. A. in two match contests. Departing from an annual custom, the Methodist five walked away with first honors in both the contests, the scores being 35 to 13 and 48 to 31. From the display of consistent teamwork on the part of the Trinity boys in these first games, it was rightly judged that the locals were going to make a stupendous drive for gaining a majority of their scheduled games.

On the annual pre-Christmas trip thru Western North Carolina, Trinity sprung a surprise on all North Carolina by emerging from all five games played with easy and decisive victories. The first contest was with the Statesville Club, that very same one which now indisputably claims the State Association Championship; and the Methodists took 58 points and allowed their opponents only 11. The Charlotte Y. M. C. A. team next encountered two successive defeats at the hands of the storming Trinity tossers, the respective counts being 41 to 25 and 37 to 20. Then that sturdy Asheville Y. M. C. A. contingent, which heretofore has always held the Methodists at least to a split in their regularly scheduled brace of annual games, raised her white flag before the attack of the oncoming Trinitians, and gave up both contests—43 to 24 and 31 to 26 being the final scores. The first game of this annual journey ended with a 63-19 victory over the High Point Club.

Churchhill Athletic Club, of Richmond, Va., found a clock-working team when they engaged Trinity down here. They returned to their Virginia home after being overwhelmingly defeated by a 72 to 16 score.

The first of two games with Elon, State Champions of year before last, was played on the Christians' floor, and resulted in a decided triumph for Trinity. The final count stood 33 to 21. The Christians showed an amazing increase in their teamwork when they came down here to play off the second of the contests between the two teams. The Methodists had a hard time garnering even a 33-29 victory.

Wake Forest, last year's Champions, were humbled on the City Auditorium court at Raleigh, in the only game arranged between them and the Methodists. The well-margined score was 39 to 20.

Then the Trinity team apparently became over-confident, and Stetson University, of Florida, by superior all-round teamwork, broke the long line of victories tucked away by the Trinity quint. The Florida boys carried off a 43-37 victory.

In the very next game, the Methodists showed that they had profited by their recent defeat by Stetson. Davidson, who was gathering together a long string of victories over teams around the State, fell before the Trinity quint on the local court by the score of 32 to 26.

At this juncture of the season, the Trinity squad journeyed to Raleigh, to meet A. and M. in the first of three games scheduled between the two teams. Much interest was centered around this game, for by several successive victories A. and M. had come to have as much claim to the State Championship as Trinity had. The Techs' hope, however, grew almost imperceptibly faint as Trinity walked away with a 32-24 triumph. The Aggies, nevertheless, made a comeback in the second contest, also played in Raleigh, and downed the Methodists by the close score of 16 to 14. This triumph enabled the A. and M. boys to claim a tie with Trinity in the race for State honors. The third and deciding game, which was played at Trinity, was forfeited to the Trinity team by a 2 to 0 count, and thus gave the Methodists the exclusive and undisputed right to the State Championship.

After the first A. and M. game, the Trinity quint took its remarkable trip thru Virginia. On this tour, four out of six games were won, while the other two were lost each by only a two-point margin. The first game was lost to Washington and Lee by the close count of 18 to 20. Then on the following day the Methodists surprised the strong Virginia Military Institute team by downing them on their own floor by a 31-29 score. Staunton Military Academy was next taken in hand by the Methodist quint, the final score being 27 to 24. A precedent was set in Trinity's athletics, when the locals made the University of Virginia yield on her own floor a 37-34 victory. Georgetown University was the next team which the Methodists undid, this battle ending with a 30-24 score in favor of the local quint. The northern trip ended with the "indoor football game" with Catholic University, the latter winning by the pinching count of 26 to 24.

The Virginia Military Institute quintet was met in the second game of the season between the two teams. The Methodists scalped the Virginians to the tune of 42 to 24.

The real success of the 1917 season, and the genuine ability of the Methodist quintet, is to be valued most truly by the opinions of outsiders, and by the comments of the press. One such testimonial, which clearly shows the brand of basket-ball played by the local five, and serves as a fitting climax to a review of such a successful season, is the following, taken from the "Washington Post":

"Yale, Swarthmore, and City College of New York, visitors in these parts this year, had nothing on the Southerners when it came to shooting and passing. . . . Those who have discounted the ability of the Southern teams to play up to Northern basket-ball standards must retrench."

VARSITY TRACK SEASON OF 1916

ON account of the cancellation of two dual meets with Wake Forest, the 1916 track season was greatly shortened. In the three meets in which the team engaged, Trinity won two and lost one. After losing the first meet of the season to A. and M. College, by a narrow margin, the series was evened up six days later by the defeat of the Techs on the home track, by a count of 71-55. Davidson was overwhelmingly vanquished, on April 21, by a score of 81-36. Altho Trinity failed to win first or second place in the State meet, on account of misfortunes to Ruff and Matton, it may well be said that she has the second-best team in the State. The showing of the entire team has been very satisfactory. By virtue of scoring the largest number of individual points during the season, the prize offered by Markham-Rogers Company was awarded to C. F. Matton, while a similar prize, offered by Pritchard-Bright Company, was won by J. H. Ruff.

The first meet of the season was held at Raleigh, with A. and M. College, on April 1, Trinity losing by a count of 76-49. Capt. C. F. Matton led in the scoring for Trinity, getting first place in the pole vault and broad jump, for a total of ten points. Price took first place in low hurdles, Osborne in the two-mile run, and Graham in the 100-yard dash. The strength of Jimmie MacDougall, of A. and M., in high hurdles, and in the high jump and weights, however, caused the defeat of the Trinity team by a comparatively close score. The following men won their letters in this meet: J. H. Price, L. E. Graham, and Joe Osborne.

On April 7, a second meet with A. and M., held on the new Hanes Athletic Field, resulted in victory for Trinity by the score of 71-65. No unusual records were established, on account of the drizzling rain which fell thruout the contest. Out of a total of fourteen events, the Trinity team took first honors in nine—the low hurdles, 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, the half-mile high hurdles, two miles, discus throw, broad jump, and pole vault. J. H. Ruff led in the individual points scored, winning every one of the fifteen possible points. E. M. Thompson was the next highest scorer for Trinity, with a total of eleven points—winning first place in the discus throw, and second place in the hammer throw and shot put. In this meet C. W. Toms, Jr., J. W. Hoyle, Jr., and E. M. Thompson were winners of the "T."

Trinity met the Davidson track team on the home grounds, on April 21, and carried off the contest by a score of 81-36. The visitors were outclassed in practically every event, and presented not a single individual star. For the Trinity team, Ruff starred with three first places—in the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, and broad jump. C. F. Matton and J. H. Price both won two first places, while the other points were variously divided among the different members of the squad. All records made were fairly good, though there were no exceptional ones, and no new college letters were won.

The last meet of the season in which Trinity took part was the Annual State Track Meet, held on the new Emerson Athletic Field, at Chapel Hill, April 26. The other participants were the University of North Carolina, A. and M. College, and Wake Forest. Before the meet began, a cold, drizzling rain set in, and continued thruout the first few events. The ordinary records which were made may, therefore, be attributed to the inclemency of the weather and the condition of the field. Only one State record was broken. Both C. F. Matton and J. H. Ruff did excellent work for Trinity; the former winning first honors in the broad jump, and the latter capturing first place in the 100-yard dash. Captain Matton would probably have taken first place in the pole vault had he not suffered the misfortune of a sprained muscle in his leg. The strong Carolina team proved too much for the other contestants, and walked away with first place. The Trinity team, with a total of twenty-nine points, came out in third place, with a very creditable showing.

Varsity Tennis Team, 1917

TENNIS

THE unusual interest taken in Tennis this year may be attributed partly to the competition aroused in the College championship series, which took place in October. The banner was won by the Junior Class team, composed of J. B. Whitener and L. J. Best, Jr., who defeated in succession the Senior and Sophomore teams by scores of 6-3, 2-6, 8-6; and 6-3, 6-2, respectively, the Freshman team having been eliminated on the first go-round. The number of candidates entered by Manager Dunstan for the Varsity tournament was larger than usual, and only after a struggle were Capt. P. C. Young and L. C. Larkin chosen to compose the Varsity team. F. C. Cunningham, having been defeated by Larkin by a very close score, received a place as alternate. Young defeated Larkin in the final round of the tournament by the score of 10-8, 6-4. Both members of the team have the proper "pep," and have greatly improved their team work by constant practice. Out of the five matches played, three were won by overwhelming scores, and confidence for still greater success on the spring trip has been inspired.

TRINITY-CAROLINA

The tennis season was opened on October 26, by a match with the University of North Carolina, on the local courts. The game consisted of both doubles and singles, in which Carolina was represented by Combs and Herty. P. C. Young and L. C. Larkin composed the Trinity team. Young for Trinity starred in singles, and easily overwhelmed Combs by a score of 6-0, 6-2. The doubles were rather slow, and resulted in a victory for the visitors. Larkin and his opponent in singles were very well matched, and only at the end of two hard-fought sets was an advantage gained, and the victory won by Herty.

During the following week the Trinity team took a trip to Chapel Hill and met the Carolina boys on their own courts. For the second time Combs fell before Young in singles, by a score of 4-6, 4-6; while in doubles Carolina was again successful.

TRINITY-RANDOLPH-MACON

On October 27, in one of the fastest and most interesting games of the season, Trinity defeated Randolph-Macon College in both doubles and singles. Newton and Swift for Randolph-Macon put up a good fight, but were unable to compete with the splendid teamwork of Young and Larkin. Newton's serve was a noticeable feature of the game, but he often had trouble in locating the receiving court of his opponents, while both the visiting players proved unable to handle the smashing drives of the home team. The contest thruout was full of "pep," and resulted disastrously for the visitors in all points of the game. Both Trinity men starred. Young defeated Newton in singles by the score of 6-1, 6-1; while Larkin gracefully accepted two "love sets" from Swift. Trinity won in doubles by the score of 6-4, 6-1.

TRINITY-ELON COLLEGE

The last intercollegiate tennis match of the season was played on November 2, when the Trinity team made a short trip to Elon College, and defeated the Varsity players in both doubles and singles. The college community turned out in large numbers, and gave the Trinity racketeers a warm reception. Larkin defeated his opponent by a score of 6-2, 6-3; while Young won by a score of 6-1, 6-0. The doubles resulted 6-2, 6-3 in favor of Trinity. Both teams were in unusually good form, and at no time did the interest of the game lag.

TENNIS PERSONALS

The managerial ability of Fleetwood Dunstan has been well displayed by one of the most interesting seasons of Tennis ever experienced here. "Fleet" is the sort who says little; he allows his actions to blaze away the trail. A well-arranged schedule, and hearty co-operation with the team at all times, has firmly established Tennis as one of the leading athletic sports at Trinity, while the players themselves have succeeded in upholding the high standard set up by their predecessors.

Percy Young, who served as alternate on the team last year, has fulfilled the prediction that he would be a strong man this year. In his field of athletics, Percy possesses all the qualities which go to make up the expert. In singles he excels, and has not suffered defeat thruout the entire year. On account of his ability and good judgment, he was elected captain of the team.

L. C. Larkin, who is playing as a regular for the first time this year, has proved himself a worthy mate to Captain Young. His coolness and self-control may be relied upon at all times, and his ability to smash the ball into any angle of the court has won many points for Trinity.

F. C. Cunningham has not figured in any of the matches, but his work in the inter-class series has shown him to be a tennis player of no mean ability.

THE WORK OF THE Y. M. C. A.

EACH year the Young Men's Christian Association exerts a deeper and more potent influence on College life at Trinity. The weekly meetings which are held on Wednesday evening have been unusually interesting this year, and the attendance on these services has been exceptionally good. Revival services were held in February, under the auspices of the Association. The meetings, which were conducted by Rev. M. Bradshaw, of Raleigh, were especially inspiring, and they have done much toward creating a religious and moral atmosphere among the students.

There has been a marked increase in the activities of the Association during the present year. Not content with exerting its influence in the immediate college community, it has extended its work to other places in the city. Night schools, which have been attended by pupils ranging in age from eight to sixty years, have been conducted thruout the year. Services have been held in various parts of the city; and periodicals have been systematically distributed in places where reading matter was lacking.

The prospects were never brighter for the Association than at present, and with "Service" as the watchword of each member, we are eagerly looking forward to the work of the coming year.

KAPPA SIGMA

HAIL TO THEE, O KAPPA SIGMA

Hail to thee, O Kappa Sigma!
Hail the Scarlet, Green, and White,
With its many wondrous teachings,
With its jewels gleaming bright!
As the European Order
Flourished near and flourished far,
May we modern Kappas ever,
With our Crescent and our Star.

Hail to thee, O Kappa Sigma!
Hold our willing fealty.
May "Bononia Docet" guide us
E'er in faith and loyalty.
Raise aloft on high our standard
On caressing winds unfurled;
May our banner wave forever
'Cross the guerdons of the world!

KAPPA ALPHA

TO OLD K. A.

(Tune: Watch on the Rhine)

*The day is done, the afterglow
That paints the heavens seems to show
How dear to God our colors bold,
Who flaunts the Crimson and the Gold.*

CHORUS

*Then gather 'round, ye brothers all,
In every well-loved Chapter Hall,
And fill your glasses high at close of
day;
Raise your stein, and clink with mine—
To old K. A.*

*Then our thoughts in fancy rove
To sunny Southern girls we love;
Then lift our glasses as we stand
And drink to grand old Dixieland.—CHOR.*

*To every brother lift our song;
May days be bright and life be long;
And may his heart beat true for aye
To guard the honor of K. A.—CHOR.*

PI KAPPA ALPHA

TO PI KAPPA ALPHA

*O come, let us sing from the depths of our souls,
To Pi Kappa Alpha our deepest devotion,
Till borne on the winds, as the thunder peal rolls,
Its glad notes shall echo from ocean to ocean.
Firm champion of truth, and guardian of youth,
Of thy towering greatness thy manhood gives proof.
All hail, noble Order, beloved of old!
Long wave thy bright colors, pure Garnet and Gold!*

*Enrolled as thy knights, with thy banner above,
We are constantly arising by manly endeavor,
To the heights of thy ideals, true friendship and love,
Which never can die, but live on forever.
So thru all the days, over life's toilsome ways,
The light of thy friendship shines clear thru the haze;
What a wealth of real meaning thy emblem imparts—
The Shield and the Diamond worn over our hearts!*

*What is this that we hear over valley and plain?
A sound of sweet voices in harmony ringing.
'Tis the chorus of sisters in joyful refrain,
The deeds and the praises of gallant knights singing.
As we look up on high, to the great Father Pi,
That glorious ensign appears in the sky.
May it, blended in beauty with Old Glory, wave
"O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave."*

SONG

(Air: Maryland)

*We gather here to sing to thee,
Sigma Phi Epsilon!
Our hearts are light, our spirits free,
Sigma Phi Epsilon!
As brothers true in love and praise,
We'll honor thee thru all our ways,
And glorify thy countless days,
Sigma Phi Epsilon!*

*To thee we bring our hearts of song,
Sigma Phi Epsilon!
In friendship's high and noble aim
We'll work for thy enduring fame,
And gain for thee a glorious name,
Sigma Phi Epsilon!*

*With hope and faith and courage true,
Sigma Phi Epsilon!
Help us today the right to do,
Sigma Phi Epsilon!
And here's to God, to man, to thee;
Oh! may thy life forever be
Kept in sweetest purity,
Sigma Phi Epsilon!*

*Help us today the right to do,
Sigma Phi Epsilon!
And here's to God, to man, to thee
Oh! may thy life forever be,
Kept in sweetest purity,

SIGMA CHI

SIGMA CHI NATIONAL HYMN

*Hail to the blue and gold,
Our colors fair unfold;
Hail, brothers, hail.
The cross of Sigma Chi,
Our emblem lift on high,
To float 'neath freedom's sky
On ev'ry gale.*

*From far East classic shades,
New England's hills and glades
The white cross glows
To where the stately hills
Eternal sunshine falls,
And bloom by mountain walls
Lily and rose.*

*From land of oak and pine,
Magnolia flower and vine,
From Dixieland,
Comes on the South Sea gales
From Mississippi's dales,
O'er old Virginia's vales,
A chorus grand.*

LOYALTY SONG

*When all our labors and strifes are o'er
And we've landed on the Golden Shore,
May we be able to proclaim
One successful Pi Kapp aim—
Loyalty!*

*When by effort and grit we have won
Laurels for good deeds we have done,
May we look back and proudly cry,
"Ever we've given to Pi Kappa Phi,
Loyalty!"*

*Brothers will be there we knew long ago,
Others also whom we have longed to
know,
As for the Pi Kapp grip we extend
Hands, may each in the other commend—
Loyalty!*

SORORITY

(Tune: Annie Laurie)

*We love our dear Sorority,
With love that's deep and true,
And each heart beneath the diamond
Beats for the White and Blue;
Our spotless White and Blue,
That e'er shall wave on high,
We'll all be loyal ever
To Alpha Delta Pi.*

*In this frat that we all honor
How happy every one,
Who has joined this chain of friendship
And shares its love and fun.
And noble are our aims,
Ambitions always high;
We shall always love and cherish
Our dear Alpha Delta Pi.*

THAT DEAR NAME

(Tune: "Maryland")

*By that dear name we hold apart
Large written on each loyal heart,
We look across the years to see
The steadfast light that shines in thee.
Oh, may no evil stain thy rose,
No tempest shake thy love's repose,
No cloud obscure thy light that glows
Around the lives made one in thee.*

*We place the diamond shield we wear
Beneath thy stronger shield of prayer;
While love shall call and honor stand,
While heart needs heart and hand aids
hand,
Thy truth we never can forget
Thy sun that rose shall never set,
For God who gave shall guard thee yet,
Our dear K. D., our own K. D.*

*These things within thine heart hold
dear—*

Purity, justice, truth, and love;

Seek them truly, and thou shalt find

They lead to the throne of God above.

Dost thou wear the sacred shield of gold?

Then seek out the violet white;

Let its pure and modest face upturned

Guide thee ever to truth and right.

Themis for thee a guardian is

Of the noble, the fair, the just;

Seek the noblest, and that pursue,

And in Themis for aye put thy trust.

DEDICATION

FRIENDS, benefactors, and philanthropists of the college have had Annuals wished on them ever since Annuals came into vogue on Trinity Park. Every year the Governing Board racks its brain for some worthy who would appreciate having the CHANTICLEER dumped on him; racks its brain, and ends by trotting in some "dark horse" from the highways and hedges. Why scour the highways and hedges when we have here on the threshold the sole excuse for such a publication—its breath, its lifeblood? Too long this vital force, the freaks, asses, nuts, and sapheads, has been ignored by a highbrow Governing Board. Hence, in recognition of the worthiness of these rarities, misfits, and jackasses, we are dedicating the Feature section of the Nineteen-Seventeen CHANTICLEER solely to them—to us.

It is next to impossible to include all such nondescripts in space thus brief. If you have been neglected in this issue, file your complaint and qualifications at the CHANTICLEER Roost; all candidates will be carefully cross-examined.

Foolish virgins and militant dyspeptics will kindly wait without.

On with the dance, Henry!

The bone
contention

Spare ribs from the butcher shop
of life.

I am almost five
now, and my name
is Julia.

YOU'RE ANOTHER'N

By action of the Faculty, Trinity Seniors are no longer required to tip their hats to Freshmen. Thanks, awfully!

Dr. Lap, proprietor of the College Book Room, announces a reduction of ten per cent. for Trinity students on all purchases.

Among the brilliant social affairs of rushing week were two enjoyable Sorority receptions. The Kappa Delta affair was a scintillating success; the Alpha Delta Pi party was the most enjoyable of the Trinity winter season.

A large and enthusiastic audience greeted the Trinity Glee Club at its annual concert in Craven Memorial Hall.

"Bill" Powell was not among those present at the Pool Room today.

By the way, did you know that four pool tables have been installed in the basement of East Duke for the exclusive use of the students?

A prominent archeologist recently discovered a rational human being in the ranks of the "9019."

The outstanding feature of the Trinity-Washington and Lee game was "Goat" Falls' sensational stab of Pierrotti's hot drive over second. Fat chance!

The English Department of Trinity College has foresworn every variety of the "old weed."

"Gus" Newbury was seen in the family pew at Memorial last Sunday.

In the social column of The Durham Herald, the following item appeared: "Inmates of Jarvis Hall, on Trinity Park, enjoyed a hot-water shower bath on last Saturday afternoon."

The CHANTICLEER management wishes to announce that the Athletic Council recently paid for its space in the Annual.

Now ain't this just too much? Among those implicated in the recent Orpheum "round-up" was Leon Hall (white), alias "Reverend."

A daredevil Senior, with a marvelous exhibition of skill and daring, ran a bristling gauntlet of Profs, and cut chapel last Friday morning.

One of the prettiest features of the Easter Sunday Vanity Parade was a bevy of beautiful Trinity co-eds, becomingly attired in the very latest Parisian models.

"Dave" Brady stayed mum at a park "Bull" carnival.

Don't this beat the Dutch? The "9019," an honorary scholarship Order established at Trinity College during the undergraduate days of "Bull Eye" Cranford, recently initiated "Rab" Love into its mysteries.

We take pleasure in publishing this clipping from The Columbia (Tenn.) Herald: "Ernest Ethelbert McLemore, Jr., the little son of Mr. E. E. McLemore, of this city, has been initiated into the sacred rites of the Trinity Ministerial Band.

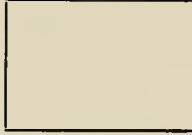

After a grueling struggle in the lists, Sir "Preacher" Jordan rendered Baron Huntley hors de combat, and crowned Princess Myrtie the queen of love and beauty.

Clinton "Whileaway" Toms, Jr., was recently presented a loving cup by the Dean, for faithfulness in attending chapel.

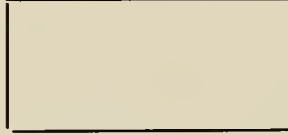

The CHANTICLEER staff is throwing up earthworks, in preparation for a defense of the Roost against any army corps of perfectly respectable students. It has already laid in a supply of Colts and Savages.

THE GYM

FRONT VIEW

SIDE VIEW

THIS reproduction affords an exceptional opportunity for those unfortunates who have never seen the original Angier Duke Gymnasium.

These views enable one to form a very graphic idea of the marvelous beauty of this classic ruin. In shape, this pile is essentially a shoebox on sticks, altho the swayback ridge pole and antique roofing give it the appearance of a loose-jointed barn. Visitors on Trinity campus are invariably struck with the nauseated appearance of this grand old eyesore. During the early Christian era, there was an attempt to replace this edifice with a modern structure, but authorities in archeology are of the opinion that this barbarous movement will never be repeated. Trinity students are highly indignant at the suggestion of destroying this gorgeous hunk of mossbacked antiquity. It has existed since the First Dynasty of Hector's Pup, and should be preserved as an atrocious relic of antediluvian architecture.

THEMES

*We "bone" three hours on Thursday nights
To frame up themes and write 'em down,
And when O. T. turns off the lights,
We think these themes are done up*

BROWN.

*But when those themes come back to us
They're marked "C. R.", grade sixty-four;
Princee Albert comments on the muss:
Your grammar's putrid, work some*

MOORE.

*We sweat and grind on Woolley's stuff,
But still Doc Shirley rants and raves;
He slings the ink, and treats 'em rough—
His victims doomed to early*

GRAVES.

THE FOOL

*There was a young man—
Oh, a veritable fool!
He lowered himself
By indulging in pool.*

*He worshiped the board,
With its flannel so green,
And invariably scratched
When he made the fifteen.*

*The shark that he played
Was a good 'un, you bet!
He was just like Bon Ami—
He "hasn't scratched yet."*

*But the fool, he continued,
And thought he was cunning,
Till the shark won the series
With sixty points running.*

*He lost all his money,
And pawned all his clothes,
Got bats in his belfry,
And holes in his hose.*

*And then he was called
To the sanctum of one,
The Dean, who harassed him
Till he was undone.*

*The next day the fool
('Twas a source of surprise)
Developed a case
Of astigmatic eyes.*

*He packed his belongings—
At that time so few,
And homeward he journeyed—
This knight of the cue.*

*The moral is plain
As no doubt you see—
'Tis well to be spotted,
But not by O. T.*

ACT I

(Pauci's office; committee assembled around large table, with Pauci presiding.)

PAUCI: You doubtless know, Gentlemen, the purpose of this meeting. Vice has crept into our midst. The morals of the students in our beloved college are fast being corrupted. The evil influence of poolrooms and other low dives has now been completely overshadowed by a new and greater evil, a common, cheap place of amusement known as the Uknowwhat.

DADORUM (with tears in his eyes): Yea; Yea.

PEPPO (dreamily): Would that a Greek—

PAUCI (Rises from his seat, scratches his head, strokes his beard, and frowns): This vile place of amusement must be closed. (Stamps his foot, and tugs frantically at his beard.) Vaudeville women shall not entice our students. The lure and the corrupting influence of pink tights and short skirts must and shall be stopped. (Lets go of his beard, and resumes his seat amid a series of "Ah, Ah's.") As a committee from the honorable and august faculty of Agood College, it is our duty to investigate and, if possible, put a stop to this disgraceful performance, this corrupting evil, and to protect the morals of the college community. Gentlemen, we will now be glad to hear suggestions from any members of the committee as to the best plan of action to pursue in this case.

TUBIUM (smacking his lips, and cleverly converting his smack into a yawn): In the good old corn-liquor days—

LAPIUS (squinting one eye, and rolling the other): Well, now in the New York Times—

MINKUS (crossing his legs, and staring at the ceiling): When I was at Cornell—

DADORUM (with a frown): Be direct, Gentlemen. When anyone asks you the way to Greensboro, don't say it's a pretty day.

PAUCI (apparently irritated, as evidenced by his tugging at his beard): Order! Order! (Glaring at Lapius.) No singing in this meeting. (Turning to Dadorum) Take off your gloves, and stay awhile. Hasn't anybody a suggestion to offer?

BROOKINA (clearing his throat, and thoughtfully rubbing his bread-basket): Mr. Chairman, I think it becomes our duty, even tho undignified and unbecoming it may seem, to visit this Uknowwhat, this place of vice, and to determine for ourselves the nature and extent of the evils practiced there. By seeing for ourselves the immoral performance, we may determine how great the immorality really is, and what is the best course to pursue in competing with it. Gentlemen, the cause is worthy of the sacrifice which it would be necessary for us to make in order to enter this common, vile house of amusement. What say you, Gentlemen, to our visiting this place on the morrow?

COMMITTEE (in chorus): Yea; Yea. We will attend; we will make the sacrifice.

PAUCI—Just as you say, Gentlemen; on the morrow we shall make the sacrifice.

(Meeting adjourns sine die, and members exeunt left front entrance. Curtain goes down, with Pauci still sitting at head of the table, and tugging at his beard.)

ACT II

Interior of Uknowwhat Theater. Enter the committee, Dadorum wearing gloves and carrying umbrella, other members wrapped up in overcoats, Pauci carrying opera glasses. Theater manager leads way to front row of seats, which he has reserved for the committee.

THEATER PROPRIETOR (worried, and wishing to be polite): Gentlemen, be seated; the house is at your disposal. Hey, you (calls passing peanut vender); give these gentlemen all the peanuts and popcorn they want.

(Members of committee at once make grab at vender's basket, Brookina in scramble getting four bags.)

PAUCI (shoving a handful of popcorn into his mouth): Here on the front row! It will ruin our characters; but we had to get close, where we could see everything, did we not? (Turns to Peppo on his left. The latter, having too many peanuts in his mouth to answer, emphatically nods assent.)

(Pauci takes opera glasses out of case and silently adjusts them. Other members of committee continue eating peanuts and popcorn. Overture begins, and curtain rises for first number on the program, a Chinese juggling act.)

MINKUS (at conclusion of act): How disgraceful!

LAPIUS: Such things should not be tolerated in decent society. (Other members of committee evidence similar opinions, by frowns and emphatic nods.)

Second number on program, a selection of popular airs by a mixed quartet, takes place.

TUBIUM—The worst I've ever seen!

PEPPO—Such things would even corrupt the morals of a Greek!

Curtain goes down, and rises for third and final act. Group of chorus girls, clad in pink tights and unusually short skirts, occupy stage, singing and dancing as curtain goes up.

PAUCI (hastily putting opera glasses to his eyes): Ah!

All members of committee lean forward, and crane their necks.

Brookina snatches opera glasses from Pauci, and stands up in his seat.

Dadorum drops his umbrella, and wildly applauds.

"Hurrah! Hurrah! More! More!" yell all the members of the committee as the curtain goes down.

LAPIUS (with one foot on the orchestra railing): Who said this show was indecent? I see nothing corrupt and immoral about it. It is a darned good show. Whoever said anything against it can go to.

BROOKINA (still eating popcorn): Did you see that girl on the end wink at me? Why, it's the most moral entertainment I've ever seen.

Pauci says nothing, and other members of committee become silent as theater proprietor approaches.

PAUCI (rising, and acting as spokesman for the committee): Sir, we find nothing wrong with your house of amusement. We are sure that the startling reports which reached our ears were absolutely unfounded. In fact, we were so impressed with the entertainment that we have decided to remain for the second performance. Gentlemen of the Committee, resume your seats. Some more popcorn, boy!

THEATER PROPRIETOR (smiling, as he goes behind stage): How are the mighty fallen! I told those chorus girls to kick just a little higher today. I thought those old geezers would fall for a little high kicking. Well, I'll just go back and tell the chorus to kick still higher this time, and to do a little flirting on the side. Yes Sir; I've roped in seven new patrons tonight. Investigating Committee—ha! ha!

UNCLE JOSH'S CLOCK

BY S. F. MORDECAI

*There's the crack of cannon-cracker that to Buckrah ears gives joy,
And the harsh, discordant, Christmas horn that's blown by buzzard boy;
There's the fierce and frightful rasping of the filing of the saw,
And the squeal of hungry hogs about the cravings of the maw;
There's the senseless, witless yelling of the bleachers—kid and man,
And the insane screech and screaming of the picture-hatted fan;
There's the whistle of the factory, the shifting engine's shriek,
And the howling of the hoodlum whose upper story's weak;
There's the roaring of artillery, the Freshman's college song,
And the riveting of boilers, the beating on a gong;
There's Stentor's loud proclaiming from the fabled, classic shores,
And the sound of sawing gourds that comes from hayseed when he snores;
There's the ringing of the rising bell that wrongs us of our rest,
And the barber-shoppy discord when dudies sing their best;
There's the horrid, bay-moon howling of the nigger's dog named Ring,
And the music (?) at the chapel when professors try to sing;
There's the wheezing and the droning of the bagpipes 'mid the hills
That Sir Walter rendered classic—and are full of blockade stills;
There's the circus steam piano called "Calliope"—ye shades!
And the cacophonous cackling of cantankerous old maids.
From nuisances auricular—both general and particular—
Should we turn to sounds symbolical, to noises allegorical—
There's the loudness of the necktie, spotted vest, and yellow shoes,
And other togs bizzarro sold to sapheads by the Jews;
But all of these are melodies—brief whispers in the ear—
'Side the banging and bezanging and the clanging of the gear,
The groaning and bemoaning, never-ending, horrid shock
That emanates eternally from Uncle Josh's clock!
For every sempiternal and infernal fuss—by gosh!
Has to yield the golden medal to the clock of Uncle Josh!*

SAFETY FIRST

She did, but she don't, 'cause she doesn't—

'Twas all a horrid mistake;

She can, but she won't, 'cause she willn't

Her old-fashioned ideas forsake.

She might—aw, dry up!—but she mightn't;

I'm sure 'twould be useless to try.

She ought to be peered, but she oughtn't

To swat a poor guy in the eye.

I would if I could, but I couldn't

Without risking my precious young life.

AN IDEAL PUBLICATION?

I

SOMETHING had to be done—there was no doubt about that. The time had come when the three college publications were no longer upon a paying financial basis. Consolidation—one ideal publication—offered the only solution of the problem; so thought Editor B. U. Russ, of The Rooster, the college annual; Editor Arson Worst, of the monthly Archeap; and Editor D. Posit Bochs, of the weekly Chronic-ill. But the best plan to follow in this consolidation was a source of worry to the three wise pen artists. They had finally decided to meet in Editor D. Posit Bochs' room, and discuss every possible plan.

II

"Come right in, Gentlemen. Editor Russ, share that box with Editor Worst. I'll sit here on the typewriter. Now, let's get right to work. If any man has a plan, let him state it. Then we will discuss the merits and demerits of every plan suggested. How about that?"

"Suits us all right," chimed in Russ and Worst.

"Well," continued Editor Bochs, "I suppose we had better present our plans in alphabetical order. That means I am to begin now."

"Gentlemen, I will be direct; the proposed ideal publication should take the form of the Chronic-ill, or should at least embody its principal features. What say you?"

"It'll never work," emphatically declared Editor Russ, as he wound one skinny leg around the other, and extracted with literary fingers a splinter which had forsaken its home in an attempt to calculate the thickness of his trousers.

"Of course it won't," stormed Editor Worst. "What a joke! Why, the Chronic-ill is just the same old thing week after week. The only difference one finds between an issue of December, 1915, and December, 1916, is a change of names and of dates. And the editorial page—inhabitants of East Duke take a hand there, and make their views the views of the student-body. Your paper an ideal publication—bah!"

"Yes," Editor Russ eagerly took up the bombardment, "and the Chronic-ill don't try to get real news. That staff and those associate editors of yours kill your chances of putting out an ideal publication. They expect news to fly to them—never try to find it. As a result, we've been told 'Who's Who' eighty-seven times, have been 'With Other Colleges' ninety-three times, and have read the same jokes ten times."

"Well, if you don't like my suggestion, you can—"

"Calm yourselves, Gentlemen," cut in Editor Worst. "I know my plan will meet your approval. Fashion that ideal publication upon the Archeap. Its literary merits—"

"Aw, bosh!" exploded Editor Bochs. "Your Archeap is the worst yet. Your poetry reads like Mother Goose Rimes of a South Sea Islander. Your editorials remind me of the ark—same ideas, same expressions, very same words that characterized the magazine published by the Garden of Eden Seminary."

"Again," continued the Chronic-ill editor, "you have to dirty your trousers by kneeling to every student before he will write anything for you. You actually have to promise a Co-Ed to marry her before she will even write a line for you. Dirty trousers and promises of marriage never go with an ideal publication."

"Yes," Editor Russ broke into the fray, "you can't tell when your magazine is going to come off the press. The Christmas number usually comes out in time for the students to use it in starting a bonfire at the celebration of the Easter baseball victory."

"Shut up," growled Editor Worst, "and state your plan."

"Oh," began Editor Russ, "The Rooster offers the only possibilities for an ideal publication."

"About like H—," fairly shouted both the other editors. "There's nothing to your Rooster," exclaimed Editor Bochs. "You get a bunch of pictures old enough to adorn any historical museum, draw a few objects which resemble a jabwock or a futurist's conception of death, write out 'cracks' at everybody on the campus whom you don't like—there's your Rooster ready for the press."

"A leather binding, whitewashed green, completes your book," interrupted Editor Worst. "But where does your ideal publication come in?"

"That's what I want to know," chimed in Editor Bochs.

"It's got your publication beat," snapped Russ.

"You're a liar; mine's the best publication," returned Editor Bochs.

"You're another liar."

"You're both liars," hissed Editor Worst.

Editor Bochs grabbed a chair; Editor Russ seized a convenient baseball bat; and Editor Worst whipped out a two-bit knife. The fight was on for the establishment of an ideal publication at Trinity College.

III

The three editors of Trinity College publications are lying in the public ward of Watts Hospital, at death's door. The matter of an ideal publication is a dead issue on the campus, and not even a wild daisy decks the deathbed of its three former champions.

EXAMS

*Friends, Freshman, and schoolmates, lend me your ears;
I come to praise exams, and not to blame them.
The good examinations do the profs all speak of;
The bad is soon forgotten after flunks.
So let it be forever. Professor Nutt
Hath told you that exams are beneficial:
If it be so, it is their only virtue,
And grievous faults be there to counteract it.
Now, by commission of professors all—
For Doctor Few is really kind at heart,
So are all profs, all kind at heart—
Come I to speak about examinations.
They are my foes, awful and fierce to me;
Yet profs all say exams are beneficial,
And profs are really, truly kind at heart.
But they have changed star pupils' grades to sixties,
Resulting ofttimes in a sad trip homeward;
Does this, then, prove exams are beneficial?
When a poor Freshman works, exams discourage.
A good thing should be made of different stuff:
Yet profs all say exams are beneficial,
And sure all profs are really kind at heart.
I speak not to disprove what they have said,
But here I am to speak what I do know.
We all do hate exams, not without cause:
What cause withholds us then to abolish them?
O, Courage! thou art fled from college students,
And we have lost our grit. Let's get to work;
Our hearts' desire the death of all exams,
We must not cease till they have all been slain.*

LOT PITCHED HIS TENT TOWARD SODOM

(With Apologies to a Freshman)

LOT pitched his tent toward Sodom, not as some people maintain to be near the opera houses, where he could hear the latest songs and see the latest plays; nor to have all the conveniences of a city home, equipped with water and lights, so that if he were returning home late some night from a poker game he could switch on the light and save his shins; nor because he loved to hear the hum of city life—but for the same reason that many good and hard-working men are doing today; he only wanted to get his daughter near a good school.

He's forgot how to plow,

Took a trip to censor the Orpheum crew;
Hog wild at the sight,
He clapped with delight,

He was jacked by Prex Few

*"I love you, Sweet Maiden," he cried;
" 'Tis mutual, I'm sure," she replied.
They then came to terms,
Regardless of germs—
"The devils! I love 'em," she sighed.*

CONFIDENTIAL BOOK GUIDE

BY MAHRUD

INOR RESULTS FROM MINIMUM EFFORTS, by Hobo Williams. A fine, frank, unaffected bit of boshy and garrulous nothingness, as related from personal experiences. Sympathetic and perspicacious in its recollections.

DELIGHTFUL DAILY DUTIES, by R. Leebus Fisher. Autobiographical experiences of an office boy. The divulging of a productive character study, portraying tentative grotesqueness, enhanced by resupinated foibles.

MONEY-MAKING IN COLLEGES, by B. Abraham Farmer. A naturalistic, eye-opening bit of autobiographic fiction. Realistic in its depiction of first-hand devices and obsequious methods.

THE IRISH TAILOR, by Gus Bosso Hill. Reminiscences of a pronounced standard, permeated with inconceivable notorious experiences, wherein the incongruous, the anachronistic, and the unlikely are analogous to the gullibility of the author.

THE VISIONARY "T," by A. Stackhouse. A would-be-professional athlete's sincere and thoughtful views of unavailing ambitions. Creepily suggestive of Lamentations, but still amusing and picturesque in its occult horrors.

THE ARCHAIC DEMOSTHENES, by C. Henry Greenburg. Both flashy and raucous in its captious criticism. Unmistakable in its emulation for grandiloquent bombasticness. Tendetically presumptuous in its recommendations of style, and especially of key, pitch, and note of voice.

PRESSING PERSEVERANCE, by Pants P. Phillypse. A good piece of localesque superfluity. Rather slangy, decidedly colloquial, and entirely uncoördinated. Racy and pungent with the savor of dry cleanliness.

AFFECTATIOUS PUNNING, by Flegal W. McCullers. Typical buffoonery of a pedant. Difficult to understand upon first reading, a second perusal creates a strong sense of rapprochement for the work. A seriously egotistical endeavor, admixed with low voltage humor bereft of wit. Dose, three or four puns, as needed. Try 'em.

VEXATIOUS WORRYISMS, by C. Dean Hunt. Abounds in non-apathetic quotations from advice to subordinates. Protractedly tempestuous in parts, but always without anonymity in its delightful similitude of unchoice expressions and phrases. Many whiffed odors of verbal perfumes.

PRESUMPTUOUS OFFICIOUSNESS, by Told Onby Graham. This combination of primordial sophistry and stultification is from the pen of a universal, unpopular, and convivial toadyist. A vile contexture of sleuthisms, poked chippings, et cetera. Such a factitious persliffage of vacuity is seldom surpassed in technique.

ESTHETICAL PSYCHOPATHOLOGY, by Red P. Harper. An interesting result of illogical thinking. Hurtlingly differentiates in an ultrasophisticated vocabulary the aberrational and teleological effects of the study of Psychology. Rather numerous psychic subtleties.

(NOTE—These books are among the latest from the college press. On sale nowhere; they may be obtained from the college book room, however, at the regulation price of $3.35.)

THE GEOGRAPHY OF COLLEGE

COLLEGE is an isthmus, bounded on the north by the land of the Faculty, on the east by the Sea of Textbooks, on the south by Athletics, and on the west by the Society Ocean.

The climate of college is varied. In the north, it is cold, because of the chilling breezes from the A. B. mountains, which lie between College and the land of the Faculty. The east coast is a sterile region and, like the Sea of Textbooks which borders it, is subject to calms. The climate of the southern and western portions, near Athletics and the Society Ocean, is generally mild and equable, but is subject to occasional storms of great violence. On account of the genial climate, these are the most thickly settled portions of the isthmus.

Like the climate, the products of College are varied. The portions of the country which border on the land of the Faculty and the Sea of Textbooks will, if carefully tilled, yield culture. There are also in these districts mines from which ideas are dug. Neither of these commodities, however, is produced in as great quantities as the country is capable of yielding. The chief products of the sections of College which join Athletics and the Society Ocean are good times, sports, and debts. Altho less valuable than the products of the other sections, these products form the bulk of the commerce of the country.

Politically, College is semi-independent. The adjoining land of the Faculty claims suzerainty over the isthmus, and maintains barracks throughout the land; but in reality the authority of the Faculty is not supreme, and College is governed largely by local traditions. The inhabitants of the land are usually called Students, but this is, strictly speaking, a misnomer, since very few of the people in College belong to that race. Theoretically, the natives are divided into four classes of society—Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors; but in reality these classes are so equally distributed over the Isthmus that there is little class distinction. On the west coast, however, live the Greeks and barbarians, between whom there is continual warfare. There are also occasional conflicts with the Faculty who occupy the region.

There are few cities in College. On the east coast is Matriculation, the chief port of entry, and the most populous city. The capital is located in the extreme north, at the Pass of Graduation.

College is difficult of access, and carries on little intercourse with the outside world. If, however, its great internal resources were developed, its harbors and highways improved, and a merchant marine built up, there is little doubt that a flourishing commerce would be established, and college would become a real world power.

THE CANDID PROFESSOR SAYS

THE PROFESSOR ON ENGLISH I—September 10. I want you Freshmen to understand right away that you are not going to get a groat's worth of good out of this course. My sole purpose in conducting it is to have an opportunity of "running the hog" over you. I don't like you any better than you like me; and furthermore, I want to say that I am going to flunk at least sixty per cent. of you on the first Woolley quiz, just to impress it upon you that Squirrel Crossing High School and Trinity College are two separate and distinct institutions. You big slob over there in the corner, I am going to ride you all year; that slaughter-house face doesn't appeal to my esthetic taste; you will make 58 on Woolley in January. After I have bulldozed you brats sufficiently, I am going to let you pass by the skin of your teeth, just to get rid of you. The bell rang thirteen minutes ago; "Clean house."

THE PROFESSOR ON GREEK VI. I am sorry to see so many of you taking my course this year; it is an indication that the crip-riding evil is more prevalent on the park than ever before. It is a practical impossibility for me to retain a vestige of respect for the student who has sufficient gall to take this pre-digested knowledge three times a week. I wrote these lectures originally for a girl's finishing school class, as you can easily determine by the pink and white flavor. The examples which I draw from football games are of course written from hearsay; I have never seen an exhibition of the barbarous pastime—in fact, I become faint at the mere mention of it. As you leave the classroom today, please avoid the knowing winks and tolerant smiles; it doesn't speak well for the course.

DR. MOORE, ON ENGLISH IV. It is positively discouraging to see so many of you hopping this course. When I look into your smiling faces this morning, I see enormous stacks of blue books and term papers doing a snake dance before my mind's eye. Last year I made English XI as disagreeable as possible, in the hope that you would avoid my courses in the future; however, my most satanic efforts have apparently fallen flat. In beginning this course, I wish to say that I have prepared several bales of notes, with which I shall suffocate you three sixty-minutes' per week. When the course has been completed, I shall sell said notes for goat provender. In conclusion, let it be said that I shall goat and crab at least twice a week during the term; during examinations, however, while I am occupied with blue books, I shall stay on a continual grouch. If there are no questions, you may be excused.

THE PROFESSOR SAYS ON LATIN I: It is to be devoutly hoped that none of you young ladies and gentlemen will be hurt at some of the things I am going to say to you this morning. I must tell you that Latin I, as conducted by me, is essentially a course in near-wit. I hate to say this, but those of you who can not see the funny side to my embalmed jokes will do well to drop the course, and avoid the embarrassment of flunking. On the other hand, those of you who are able to sustain a period of premeditated and uproarious laughter for a space of three minutes will be given a grade of ninety or above. Now I should be glad if some canvas-lunged young man would volunteer to occupy one of these front seats, and lead the merriment. The majority of my humorous sallies are going to be excruciatingly painful to the Class, but I shall expect, in every case, a perfect jubilee of appreciation. Tomorrow I hope to lecture on the soul-damning evils of The Youth's Companion, chewing gum, and milk tea. If I should appear at any time without my umbrella, overshoes, and mittens, please phone for a policeman; if, however, I should fail to meet a Class, summon the coroner, and fly the flag at half-mast. I trust that the more serious-minded among you will give these remarks careful attention. The Class is excused.

THE MATH PROFESSOR SAYS, ON THE EVE OF EXAMINATIONS: In compliance with the moth-eaten traditions of Trinity Math Classes, you Freshmen have reduced this course to an absurdity. Regardless of the fact that none of you has solved a problem this past term, I shall follow my usual custom, and pass all of you except three. This trio of chosen students, however, need feel no uneasiness; I shall give each of them seventy on the second examination. In passing, it might be well for me to say that pictures of triangles, squares, and circles will cover a multitude of faults on examination. Very often I pass students who show talent in penmanship, or a sense of proportion in blanking questions.

Never let it be thought for a minute that I enjoy this farce—far from it; still the president insists on a compulsory Math course, and we can only murmur, "Thy will be done, Great Allah!"

One more word; don't come on examination in a nervous flutter. Uncertainty? You are safer than a national bank. Class excused.

TO THE STUDENTS, TO MAKE MUCH TO CRIPS

*Ride ye crip courses while ye may,
Old Time is moving on;
And if ye don't ride crips today,
The chance may soon be gone.*

*Dear English Three, dear History Two,
Nor dear Greek Lit forgetting,
Take crips as they are offered you
Nor spend your time in fretting.*

*That course is best which gives you more
Of life's sweet youth for playing;
So spend no time on English Four,
Take Five without delaying.*

*Then study not, but use your wit,
The good crip courses riding,
And 'mong the "summa cums" you'll sit,
Where honors are abiding.*

*There was a young student named Green,
Who once on the campus was seen,
Psychologically frisky;
The Dean said "it's whiskey!"
And gave the pink slip to the fiend.*

*In a crap game, a student named Jeen
Hit the boys for a roll of long green,
And then quick as thought,
Just to show his good heart,
He turned the crowd up to the Dean.*

THE FOND EMBRACE

E. C. FEW

THEY stood near the summit of a gently sloping hill—the two lovers, looking into each other's face. She was tall and stately, and he of a strong, sturdy frame. The last rays of the setting sun were playing among their flowing locks, and the lovelight flitted over the countenance of each of them. A brisk wind was stirring, for it was in the cold month of February.

As I looked upon them, the lovers nodded to each other, as if agreeing upon some step soon to be taken. All at once the nod became more profound, their heads were almost together. She put her slender arms about his waist, and he received her joyfully to his manly bosom. Their lips touched, and there passed off in the wind a faint echo of an ardent kiss.

I stood aghast as I viewed this amorous scene, and wondered at the strength of the love of the bond which drew these two together. Within full view of the President's home, and where all the students might cast a glance on them, these two victims of Cupid's fiery dart stood in one fond embrace. Apparently they cared not for the privacy of a darkened room, with the lights turned low and the shades pulled down. But the love which impassioned both their hearts was one which dared exhibit itself in daylight, and before the public eye.

The wind grew more intense, and closer they seemed to draw, each for protection in the other's grasp. I could not turn from such a glorious sight, but stood dumbfounded until the shadows of night began to gather around the lovers. Presently the wind died down. They withdrew from their embrace, and stood erect as before. As darkness excluded them from my view, the lovers were still standing—the twin cedars on the hill on the western side of our campus—nodding in the evening breeze.

CORCORAN STREET

DURHAM, N. C.

DURHAM, the site of Trinity College, is a thriving city of the famous Piedmont section of North Carolina, some four hundred feet above sea level. Its remarkable growth during the last few decades has been due chiefly to its varied industries. Thirty years ago, it was an insignificant village of a few hundred people; and even in 1900 it had only six thousand inhabitants. Today, it is a city of over thirty thousand urban population, containing more wealth, larger manufacturing enterprises, and greater school facilities than any other city in North Carolina.

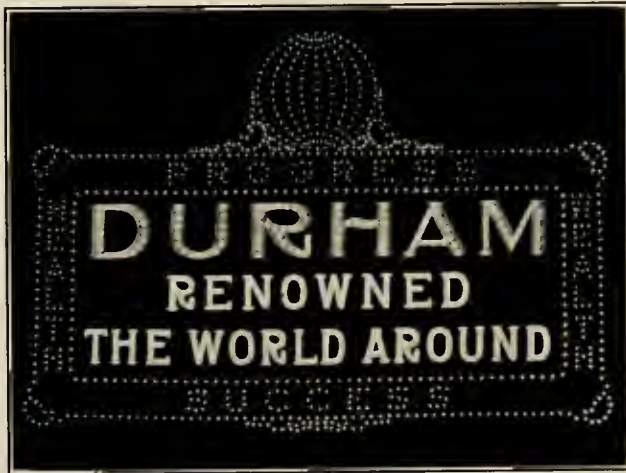

Durham is the center of the tobacco manufacturing industry of North Carolina, and it is largely to this industry that the city owes its growth. It is the original home of the famous "Bull Durham" and "Duke's Mixture" brands, and it has the "Bull Durham" plant of the American Tobacco Company—the largest, best-equipped, and best-known granulated smoking tobacco factory in the world.

There is also here the largest plant for re-drying leaf tobacco in the world, and one of the largest and best equipped cigarette factories in the United States—the Liggett & Myers plant. Among other industries in Durham are a number of large cotton sheeting mills, a large plant of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, and the largest cotton-bag mill in the world—the Golden Belt plant—which makes two million assorted bags daily. In disposing of their products, Durham manufacturers enjoy great advantages over many cities of its size, for the city is served by the Durham and South Carolina, the Durham and Southern, the Southern, the Seaboard Air Line, and the Norfolk and Western Railroads.

The city has excellent hotel accommodation, forty-six churches—representing practically all denominations, libraries, a munificently endowed hospital, and other desirable features of an up-to-date community. There are a large number of progressive retail stores, containing diversified stocks of high quality. In the immediate city, there are twenty-five miles of paved and macadamized streets, and thruout the county there are sand-clay roads which represent an outlay of one million dollars. Durham is on the Quebec-Miami, Capital-to-Capital, Central, Southern National, and All-Southern Transcontinental automobile highways. There is the Durham Country Club, located about two miles west of the city, and equipped with a golf course, tennis courts, and well-appointed clubhouse. And in addition Durham has a school system ranking with the best in the State. The value of the school buildings is at present one hundred and forty thousand dollars. During the past term, there were 5,107 students enrolled in the city schools. In every respect, Durham is without very little which is desirable in an up-to-date urban community.

"Bureau," Supremacy Commands Attention!

LOOK back over the past years and ask yourself what other Engraving Institution, specializing in college annuals, has wielded so wide an Influence over the College Annual Field?

Ask yourself if College and University Annuals are not better to-day because of BUREAU PROGRESSIVENESS and BUREAU INITIATIVE?

You know that the BUREAU OF ENGRAVING, Inc. inaugurated the system of Closer Co-operation with college annual boards in planning and constructing books from cover to cover.

Our marked progress in this field commands attention. Our establishment is one of the largest of its kind in this country. Our Modern Art Department of noted Commercial Art Experts is developing Artistic Features that are making "Bureau" Annuals Famous for Originality and Beauty.

And again, the help of our experienced College Annual Department is of invaluable aid. Our up-to-the-minute system, which we give you, and our Instructive Books will surely lighten your Burden.

A proposition from the Natural Leaders in the College Annual Engraving field from an organization of over 150 people, founded over 17 years ago, and enjoying the Confidence and Good Will of the foremost Universities of this country, is certainly worth your while.

Is not the BUREAU OF ENGRAVING, Inc., Deserving of the Opportunity of showing what it can do for - YOU?
